Moore Stephens KSC and Commons Lounge engage in a strategic partnership to propel emerging Romanian start ups

Moore Stephens KSC has teamed up with Commons Lounge to encourage and guide startups in Romania to scale up. The partnership will see the firm share their insights and industry experience with emerging business in the region by providing invaluable advice to them throughout the critical phases of growth.

Moore Stephens KSC and Commons Lounge together will launch an acceleration program during the start of next year. The acceleration program is set to be named Panorama, Empowering Founders Face the Ordinary.

The main objective of the program is to provide much-needed support network and structure to growing businesses. As part of the program, mentors will help startups and entrepreneurs to solve complex business challenges through innovative thinking.

Moore Stephens KSC and Commons Lounge together believe that company centric innovations which can be extended to customers and business partners are a key competitive advantage for dynamic organizations. The prompt advancements of startup ecosystems in recent times has shaped new heights of collaboration between naive and mature businesses.

On this occasion, Mr. Mamas Koutsoyiannis, CEO of Moore Stephens KSC said that “Moore Stephens and Commons Lounge together will be significantly benefit in accelerating the entrepreneurial sector and economy within Romania, a high-spirited community of vehement and capable people, willing to cultivate innovative ideas through startups.” “The primary objective of the partnership with Commons Lounge is to encourage and guide startups in Romania as well as to shorten the path to the market with the products and services they develop to make sure the products and services they develop find their way to the market in the steadiest way possible.”

Mr. Andrei Stan, Partner at Moore Stephens KSC said that “The able guidance of our mentors will empower the startups to recognize and gauge more efficiently the requirements of their customers, boost their business models, scrutinize their markets in terms of potential, comprehend the legal issues pertaining to the type of their business activity, as well as develop pricing strategies.

Mr. Yoni Schimmel, Partner at Commons Lounge said that “We are thrilled to partner with Moore Stephens KSC to provide local startups, entrepreneurs and freelancers with fully serviced creative open working spaces accompanied by a host of financial services especially tailored to the requirements of Bucharest's hottest upcoming business talent.”
